“ I remember that my Uncle George always had a smile on his face and a joke on his lips. It is with deep regret that distance has kept us apart and we were not able to visit. However I find peace in the fact that he is no longer in pain and is with God, his siblings and parents.

“ My Uncle George was always friendly and full of fun when he spent time with us. He used to call me by the German version of my name. He must be having a lovely time with his parents, George and Martha, and 8 of his siblings, including my father Alvin, that have gone before him. Will always remember your smiling face and crazy jokes. My condolences to his wife, Betty Ann.

“ Grateful for the love and support of George and Betty Ann these past 15 years and will always remember George's broad smile and gentle wit. And him making the trip to Erin multiple times. And his love for books. And lunch at the Korean restaurant where he introduced me to kimchi. And for accepting me even though I was a "Methodist" preacher. Godspeed! Love, your son-in-law, Ken.
